THREE GRENADIANS BUY DUNCAN STOCK

R. B. Townes, O. L. Kimbrough and E. L. Bass New Owners of Long Established Firm—Deal Consummated Wednesday, January 16.

A business deal of great interest to the public in Grenada and surrounding country was consummated Wednesday morning, Jan. 16th, when R. B. Townes, O. L. Kimbrough and E. L. Bass purchased the stock of goods and the fixtures of Duncan & Co. The business was sold by Townes Duncan, administrator of the estate of his father, the late B. C. Duncan, who passed to his reward last October.

The business was established in the early nineties, Mr. Duncan being one of the original partners. During these years it has experienced several changes of ownership, the last being nearly twenty years ago when Mr. Duncan became sole proprietor. Since his death in October, the business has been operated by the administrator.

The new proprietors do not purpose to make any radical changes in the conduct of the firm which has enjoyed the confidence and the good will of the public since its founding. They do purpose to carry a fuller stock and an even higher class, if possible, of merchandise, especially in the ladies' department. Several changes in the arrangement of the interior of the store are contemplated so as to enable the force of clerks to give even better service to customers. The stock of goods has been greatly depleted as the result of the recent sale conducted by the store and the new owners plan another sale beginning today of remaining merchandise to make room for new goods that are being bought as rapidly as possible and that will begin to arrive within a few days' time.

Mr. Townes and Mr. Kimbrough will have active charge of the management of the business. Both are young men, born and reared in Grenada, and both have been in constant touch with the business public for several years. Mr. Townes has been connected with Duncan & Co. since his early youth and the experience he has gained during that time has no doubt prepared him for his added responsibilties. Mr. Kimbrough has been in the grocery business for some years and he, too, has gained an experience that should stand him well in hand.

Mr. Bass, one of Grenada's most highly esteemed citizens, although devoting himself almost exclusively to other interests, will have some voice in the business and he shoud give to it that counsel and advice making for its continued progress.

The new firm will be known as The Townes-Kimbrough Co. The Sentinel bespeaks for it the consideration of the public.

FORD MONOPLANE VISITS GRENADA MONDAY, JAN. 14

One of the latest Ford tri-motored all-metal monoplanes reached Grenada at 11 a. m. Monday and spent the remainder of the day here taking up passengers. The ship made the landing on the field at Glenwild Plantation forty minutes after it left Greenville. Rev. John W. Young, pastor of the Greenville Presbyterian church and a son of Dr. J. W. Young, of Grenada, was one of the first passengers to alight after the plane landed.

Nearly one hundred people were passengers on the flights of the ship while it was here and the great majority of them had had no previous flying experience. Without exception, all of them were pleased and thrilled over their ride.

The plane is the largest that ever visited Grenada. It stands more than 12 feet high, has a wing spread of 74 feet and a length of 50 feet. On the ground, it looks several times as large as it does in the air. The ship weighs 6100 pounds and is capable of carrying a load of 3900 pounds, making its loaded weight five tons. Seats are provided for fifteen besides the two pilots and space is provided for baggage storage and a lavatory.

Those who took advantage of the opportunity to ride in this immense plane said that it was more like riding in a Pullman car, it was so comfortable and commodious.

MISSION MEET HELD JAN. 16

A large number of the clergy of this presiding elder's district assembled at the Methodist Church in Grenada Wednesday to discuss the missionary plans and movements of the church. The Rev. E. H. Cunningham, presiding elder, presided.

One of the most interesting as well as instructive features of the meet was the address by the Rev. W. B. Burke, recently returned missionary from China. It is believed by the ministers that the meetings, which are being held throughout the different conferences, will have a great inspirational effect towards fostering the missionary spirit in the church.

THREE-YEAR OLD GIRL HURT

Mary Nell Rayburn Falls from Automobile Sunday.

Mary Nell, three-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Rayburn, sustained a fractured skull Sunday afternoon at 2:30 when she fell from an automobile in which she was riding with her parents. She was regarded as being in a critical condition for several days but Thursday morning was reported as showing some improvement and it is now thought that she will recover.

The accident occurred on highway 51 about 3 miles south of Grenada. The child was in the rear seat while Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn were on the front seat. It is not known exactly just how the accident happened but it is thought that the little girl released the catch on the door and that the door was swung wide by air suction. She was thrown some distance from the machine.

The host of friends of the Rayburn family join in the prayer for little Mary Nell's speedy recovery. She is now in the hospital.

FLU IN GRENADA ABATING

The epidemic of flu in Grenada seems to be subsiding, however there are yet many cases of it and it appears that in many families it must go the rounds before a home can be regarded free from it. It is hoped that there will not be a second wave of the disease, as the doctors say so frequently occurs. It behooves everybody to be cautious and to continue to exercise all the precautions prescribed by their physicians.

The colored population of the town is worse afflicted at this writing than the white population. It appears that the disease came to the white homes first.

The flu is not confined to towns. It is in the country and every section of the Union has been more or less afflicted with it. In California the death rate has been high and it has been stated that the epidemic of this year had its beginning on the Pacific coast.

GRENADA THEATRE INSTALLS SOUND EQUIPMENT

Commencing with the performance last (Thursday) night, the Grenada Theatre will show pictures in future synchronized to music by famous orchestras, organists, violinists and other musicians. Thursday afternoon attaches of the theatre were busy putting the finishing touches to the equipment and the first public offering was to be given with last night's picture.

The equipment installed is a part of the now famous Vitaphone and includes everything but the actual speaking of the characters in the picture. Later on when the patronage accorded the theatre justifies the additional expenditure, the talking feature will be added. The equipment now in use is the same as that used in the larger cities in theatres using sound apparatus. Every sound effect—except the talking, as above mentioned—will be reproduced most faithfully. For instance, if a train is seen in the picture, the sound of its moving will be heard; or if an airplane is in flight, one may hear the whir of its motors.

The equipment is a decided addition to the already up-to-date theatre, one of the best and most modern in the state, and it is to be hoped that the public will show its appreciation of the efforts of the management to please its patrons.

CELEBRATE 56TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On Tuesday of this week, Jan. 16, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCormick, living about six miles north of Grenada, celebrated their fifty-sixth wedding anniversary. It was a joyous occasion for the family, loved ones and friends. There are not many who have the privilege of celebrating even their fiftieth anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. McCormick have lived a simple life. They have never been people of pretensions but rather have they emphasized those wholesome and sturdy characteristics which count for the most in life.

Mr. McCormick is 76 years of age while his wife is 72. Both were born in this county and have made their home here all their lives. They are the parents of twelve children, seven of whom are living and grown to manhood and womanhood.

The entire McCormick family is one that stands for those things that tend to develop the moral and spiritual welfare of the community and all of them are outstanding public-spirited citizens. They enjoy the esteem and friendship of all who know them.

Mrs. McCormick, before her marriage, was Sarah Clementine Wier. The Sentinel rejoices with these good people in their long married life and hopes that many days are yet before them.

J. C. PERRY SERIOUSLY ILL

The Sentinel regrets to state that Mr. J. C. Perry is regarded as critically ill. He had the flu which was followed by pneumonia and it is stated that both lungs are affected. At his age double pneumonia is a heavy tax on his system.

Overall Factory for Grenada Seems Assured; Young Men's Business Club Subscribes to Stock and Pledges Money to Finance Repairing Building

Great Bank System Holds Annual Meet

Officers, Directors and Stockholders Felicitate over Progress Made during Past Year. President Reviews Affairs. Dividend of 14% Declared.

The directors and officers and many of the stockholders of the Grenada Bank system were present at the semi-annual meeting held in Grenada with the parent bank Monday, Jan. 14th. The spacious directors' room was about filled.

The most important thing before the gathering was the report of the president, J. T. Thomas, which always contains a great deal besides the discussion of investments and dividends earned. His report was a most encouraging one and showed that the affairs of the Grenada Bank and its affiliated banks over the state had been capably and wisely managed during the past year. The president was exceedingly optimistic over future prospects for continued progress of the institution under his direction and for the growth and advancement of the community and sections served by them.

These meetings have been held for the past twenty years or more and as the years have passed President Thomas has sought more and more to direct the thoughts and the activities of his co-laborers to many important things besides banking. He has sought to impress them with the importance of interesting themselves in those things intended for the material development of their communities and particularly that they not overlook the cultivation of that side of character which takes the thoughts of men away from the everyday affairs of life.

Mr. Thomas is conceded to be one of the outstanding leaders in the banking world in the south today, his fame as a wise and astute banker being confined not solely to Mississippi. He is regarded also as being one of the most farseeing and progressive business men in the south. Under his leadership, the Grenada Bank and its branches have prospered beyond the fondest expectations of its stockholders and every year they come to realize more and more their good fortune in having him at the helm.

Impromptu talks were made by a number of those present at the meeting, all of them expressing gratification over the healthy and prosperous condition of the banks' affairs and a spirit of hope and courage for the year 1929.

The dividend declared on 1928 business was 14 per cent.

MAJESTIC RADIOS BREAK ALL RECORDS IN 1928

The Grigsby-Grunow Co., of Chicago, manufacturers of the Majestic Electric Radio Receiving Sets, has announced the 1929 model Majestics.

Never before in the history of radio has any line met with such public approval as has this line within so short a period of time.

This company jumped in actual sales from approximately five million dollars in 1927 to over forty million for 1928. Their production increased from a very small production of Majestic sets at the beginning of March, 1928, to a schedule of 4100 sets per day during the month of December.

At a recent convention of Majestic dealers held in Jackson, Miss., reports from dealers were that they had never handled a line of radios which had required less service or repairs. Several dealers reported the sale of more than fifty sets without experiencing any mechanical trouble whatever. Several of the dealers also were factory trained experts who explained that this was not only due to the unexcelled quality of the Majestic radio but the simplicity of design and construction of the exclusive technical features incorporated.

This paper has been advised that Sharp Furniture Company has been selected as the only authorized Majestic dealer in Grenada.

DEPARTURE OF EMERSONS CAUSES GENERAL REGRET

General regret is expressed in Grenada over the resignation of the rector of All Saints Episcopal church, Rev. R. W. Emerson. Mr. Emerson has accepted a call from the Episcopal church at Gulfport. He and his family have greatly endeared themselves to the people of Grenada. Mr. Emerson has joined in every movement intended for the betterment of the community and has made himself an important factor in the religious life of the town. He has served the church here for the past six years during which time he has made his imprint for good on the community.

At Enthusiastic Meeting of Organization Thursday Noon, Young Men Pledge Selves to Stock in Manufacturing Enterprise and to Raise Balance Needed—Will Canvass Town to Sell Remainder of Stock—J. T. Thomas Agrees that Bank Will Loan 65% of Stock Value at Lower Rate of Interest than Stock Pays Owner—Incomplete Census Shows 4485 of Populace Already Enumerated.

The members of the Young Men's Business Club of Grenada pledged themselves to take $15,000 or more of the necessary $25,000 in stock that must be subscribed to bring an overall factory to Grenada. Ten members of the club further pledged themselves to finance the remodeling of the building desired by the manufacturers. These steps were taken at the club's meeting Thursday noon.

One of the members who has been in correspondence with the manufacturers desiring to come south was instructed to wire them at once that Grenada is ready to welcome them.

The building selected for their factory site by the two manufacturers when they were here some days ago is that formerly used by the potato curing plant on north Main Street, adjacent to the Y. & M. V. R. R. tracks. While here, they saw several other buildings but seemed to be more pleased with the potato house than any other. With certain alterations, it will suit their purposes admirably, they said.

At the meeting Thursday, H. L. Honeycutt and H. H. Heath volunteered to canvass the town to secure subscribers to the remaining amount of stock. J. T. Thomas, president of Grenada Bank, told the young men that his bank would lend to subscribers 65% of the value of their subscription, taking the stock as sole security and the loan to be made at a lower rate of interest than the stock will pay its holders.

F. R. Lickfold, Jr., chairman of the committee appointed some weeks ago to take an accurate census of the town, said that the tabulation so far showed Grenada's population to be 4485, with the census incomplete. One section of the city has not yet been enumerated and R. H. Herring volunteered to assist Mr. Lickfold Thursday afternoon in completing the work.

The meeting was closed after some stirring remarks by Mr. Thomas, during the course of which he begged his hearers to show some pep in taking over the work of the older citizens in trying to upbuild Grenada. His talk was full of truth and what he said went straight home to his audience.

The next meeting of the club will be held Thursday, Feb. 7th.

THE GRENADA HOSPITAL HAS PROVED A HAVEN

During the past two months, the Grenada Hospital has been a haven for this community and section. The hundreds of cases of flu, followed as they have been in many instances by pneumonia or other grave illnesses, have kept the hospital practically full. But for the hospital, many could not have received that medical attention and nursing which their cases demanded. There has been an unusual number of surgical operations and success with these has run nearly or quite 100 per cent. There is no like institution in the whole country which has a better record than the Grenada Hospital, or that has a better corps of doctors and that strives to give the very highest class and best service. The hospital meets a need that this section has demanded and has undoubtedly been the means of saving to loved ones and friends many sick and afflicted.

BISHOP GREEN HERE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Bishop William Mercer Green of the Episcopal church made one of his regular visitations to All Saints Episcopal church last Sunday evening. The Bishop delivered a sermon in Greenwood Sunday morning and came to Grenada in the afternoon and held services that night. No advance notice was given of the Bishop's coming, otherwise arrangements would have been most probably made for union services in order to give others an opportunity to hear him. The Bishop is a deeply consecrated man. He is a broad thinker and keeps thoroughly posted on passing events. He has a national viewpoint. He is universally popular in Grenada and is always given a most cordial welcome without regard to church lines.

Stockholders Receive Big Annual Dividend

Grenada Trust & Banking Co. Shown to Be in Prosperous Condition at Yearly Meeting—Has Paid 16% Average Yearly Dividend.

The stockholders of the Grenada Trust & Banking Co. held their annual meeting on Thursday, Jan. 10th, 1929. The report of the president showed a most prosperous year and an increase over the twelve months preceding.

With the dividend paid this year of 22½%, the report showed that the bank had paid its shareholders an average annual dividend above 16% for the twenty-five years of its existence, never failing after the first year to pay an annual dividend. In addition to the payment of dividends, the bank has created a surplus account of $30,000.00 and paid for its building and fixtures.

The bank's statement shows that it does not owe a dollar and has $50,000.00 in bonds and $100,000.00 cash in other banks and on hand. This bank for the last few years has been very liberal in paying out its earnings because banks have to pay taxes on every dollar of their capital and surplus, which is more than they can earn on the surplus. This bank last year paid $3500.00 taxes and in addition paid quite a sum to the State Banking fund for losses sustained by other banks assessed by the State Guaranty Fund.

The same directors were elected for another year. They are: R. H. Stokes, A. Gerard, W. F. Martin, Cowles Horton, J. J. Hardy, Claud Hall, B. S. Dudley, J. P. Broadstreet, R. Semmes, and H. J. Ray.

H. J. Ray was re-elected president, Cowles Horton, vice president, and W. K. Huffington, cashier. Miss Tommye Hamilton who has served the bank for a number of years as bookkeeper, was retained for another year.

The above epitomizes the record and present status of the Grenada Trust & Banking Co., regarded as one of the most stalwart and conservative banking institutions of the state. This bank has not undertaken to do what some might term "big things", but rather has it chosen to follow well known business paths and to see that those who make its existence possible realize the greatest amount consistent with sound business and fair dealing on their investment. With this bank, as with all other enterprises, it has been the man or men at the helm that have given it the confidence of the public and caused it to grow from year to year. Without meaning to disparage any one else, there is no one that has been a more important factor in the success of the bank than its worthy and honored president, H. J. Ray, the soul of honor, a careful planner and one who knows how to deal with the public without giving offense even though he does not accede to requests made, and who is one of the town's best Christian citizens. Henry Ray went with this bank the day it opened its doors as cashier, and as others of its organizers passed from the stage of life, he was promoted to the presidency. The present cashier, W. K. Huffington, is a Grenada product, and is regarded as one of the most discerning business men of Grenada. He is attentive to his duties at all times and knows all the arts and demands of the business world. Besides these two excellent gentlemen, the bank has always had a board of directors who were held in high esteem and whose names were 100 per cent in any transaction. At last, the main thing in any institution, is the honesty and the integrity of those at the wheel and the manner in they are regarded by the public.

The bank's statement which is being published in The Sentinel of this week, shows deposits of $392,420.18, while its direct loans are $255,384.72.

Grenada is justly proud of the Grenada Trust & Banking Co. and The Sentinel congratulates the management on its splendid record for all these years.

PAT HARRISON IS ADVANCED IN RANK

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, advances to a place of real importance on the Senate's Committee on Finance as a result of Democratic defeats in the recent elections. The departure of Senator Gerry will mean that the Senator from Mississippi will become second man on the Democratic side of the table, being ranked only by the veteran Furnifold M. Simmons North Carolina.

Harrison has another committee plum in Foreign Relations and is next to the ranking Democrat on the Committee on Rules. Few men in the Senate have drawn such assignments.

Given a choice as to a chairmanship, Harrison naturally would pick Finance. It is the most powerful, by all odds, of any committee of Congress—House or Senate.

Swanson, of Virginia, is about the only man who has better committee berths than Harrison and he has been in the Senate nine years longer than the Mississippian. Swanson is the ranking minority member of the two major committees—Foreign Relations and Naval Affairs, he was chairman of the latter during the period of Democratic control of the Senate under the Wilson Administration.

Overman, of North Carolina, holds two ranking places. He is at the top of the minority side on the Judiciary Committee, of which he formerly was chairman, and of Rules.—New York Evening World.

OAKLAND-PONTIAC SETS NEW HIGH RECORD IN 1928

Final sales figures for December - 5,175 cars - just reported to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce by the Oakland Motor Car Co. - bring the total Oakland-Pontiac sales for 1928 to a new high record of 260,246 cars.

This total is 67,280 greater than during the preceding year when 192,966 Oakland and Pontiac Sixes were sold to dealers.

The new Pontiac Big Six production is now under way and it is expected that within a short time the production of this new model will be brought up to 700 cars per day, with even greater production promised for February.

There is every indication that 1929 will be the greatest sales year in the history of Oakland and Pontiac Sixes. According to factory executives, the total sales for the current year now are expected to exceed 310,000 cars. Reports from the New York where the public has quickly put its stamp of approval on both the Pontiac Big Six and the Oakland All-American Six, indicate that again Oakland will continue as one of the country's four leading builders of motor cars.

OTHER BUSINESS CHANGES

Herring Buys Stock and Salmon & Kimbrough Dissolve.

Among other business changes, besides the sale of the stock of Duncan & Co., mentioned elsewhere in this issue of interest to the Grenada public is the purchase a few days ago by R. H. Herring of the stock of Goza & Roberts. In this issue an announcement of the new firm that results from this transaction, The Economy Store, may be found. Joe Jackson, a gentleman of an extended mercantile experience and one well and favorably known to the public, will have charge of the business and assisting him will be Mrs. S. O. Horton, also known and esteemed by Grenadaians and the people of this territory.

In the sale of the Duncan stock, Orman L. Kimbrough, one of the new owners of this business, retires from the firm of Salmon & Kimbrough, grocers, and this firm will be known in future as W. D. Salmon & Co. Mr. Salmon needs no introduction to the Grenada public for he is one of the community's outstanding citizens. He will continue the business along the same lines and will continue to serve his customers with that courtesy and square dealing for which this store is noted.

CLUB REGRETS DEPARTURE OF EMERSON FOR COSAT

At its meeting Tuesday, the Grenada Rotary Club took opportunity to express through two of its members, W. D. Salmon and J. R. Countiss, its regret at losing Rev. R. W. Emerson, who was attending his last meeting before his departure for Gulfport to assume charge of St. Peter's by the Sea church after having served All Saints' Episcopal church in Grenada for the past six years. Mr. Emerson has been scoutmaster of the Grenada boy scouts for some months and it was through his activities in this regard that he was made an honorary member of the Rotary club, the organization that sponsors the scouts.

Both Mr. Salmon and Mr. Countiss expressed with deep feeling the club's appreciation of the work of Mr. Emerson with the scouts, of its admiration and friendship for him personally and of its sorrow over his departure from Grenada. Mr. Emerson responded most appropriately and made a strong plea for the work with the boys to be carried on by the club.

Miss Ruth G. Bale, head of the expression department of Grenada College, who has entertained the club on several former occasions with readings and who is welcomed always on the occasion of her appearances at its meetings, read with a great deal of expression three selections at Tuesday's luncheon. She was heartily applauded at the conclusion of each.

President Andrew Carothers appointed C. H. Calhoon to receive the district governor's shield on behalf of the club which will be presented next Tuesday by Charleston Rotarians.

B. H. Johnston and Mr. Helms were guests at the luncheon.

Commencing next Tuesday, the club will return to the Methodist church for its weekly meetings.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR AIRPORT HERE

Part of Glenwild Plantation May Be Converted into Up-to-date Flying Field—Engineer Preparing Specifications and Estimate.

John Borden, owner of Glenwild Plantation, may build and operate an airport on part of his holdings six miles south of Grenada, according to information The Sentintl learned from reliable sources the early part of the week. As a result of the recent visit of eleven Grenadians to inspect the airport at Pine Bluff, Ark., Col. Frank R. Allen, chief engineer in charge of the airport there, flew to Grenada last Saturday afternoon and remained until late Sunday, spending a great part of his time while here in consultation with Mr. Borden. No definite plans have been made for the construction of the airport but Col. Allen is to submit specifications and an estimate of the cost to Mr. Borden at an early date.

As this paper understands the situation, the pasture just west of the administration building on Glenwild and across the highway will be used as a landing field. It is admirably adapted for the purpose, being level and sufficiently large and free from overhead obstructions. The field has been used from time to time by visiting aviators and it is said that one of the most up-to-date airports in the country can be constructed there with little expense. It is purposed to convert a part of the huge administration building into hangars and to use other parts of the building for office and other purposes. The service station presumably will be located on the flying field. All buildings adjacent to the landing field would be marked by obstruction lights and projectors at various points about the field would provide illumination for night flying.

Mr. Borden appears to be intensely interested in the project and should the investigations to be made by and for him culminate in the building of the airport, it should prove of immense advantage to Grenada in many ways.

MRS. JESSIE THOMASON SEEKS UNEXPIRED TERM

The Sentinel is authorized to say to the voters of Grenada County that Mrs. Jessie Thomason is a candidate for the office of chancery clerk for the unexpired term of her lamented husband who was chosen to succeed himself in this office at the general election of 1927. If Mrs. Thomason succeeds in her ambition, it will be just as near as possible carrying out the will of the voters as expressed when Mr. Thomason was elected.

Some few years ago, Mrs. Thomason could not have succeeded her husband for the reason that she was not a voter, but since women have been given the right of suffrage, she can undertake the task which her husband undertook and which the people of Grenada County said by their ballots they desired him to perform.

There is both business and sentiment in her candidacy. Naturally the emoluments of the office would appeal to any one not so fixed in material things as not to have to give concern to yearly earnings. Then there is a sentiment about a good wife wishing to walk in the footsteps of her departed husband.

It is safe to state that Mrs. Thomason is not submitting her candidacy to the voters without having consulted many of her close friends and without having been urged by many citizens who felt so kindly towards Mr. Thomason.

She assisted Mr. Thomason in the clerk's office and hence should be quite familiar with the details of the office. Before her marriage she was a school teacher and thus by equipment and experience should be well qualified to serve in the important capacity which she seks. Mrs. Thomason, it may be said, is a gracious and obliging woman and has had enough experience in the business world to properly meet the demands of the public. If elected, it may be safely asserted that she will fill the office creditably and in a manner satisfactory to the public.

The Sentinel is but stating what seems to be in the mind of a majority of the public in saying that it is believed that Mrs. Thomason will not have any opposition. The election is scheduled for February 2nd.

CIRCUIT CLERK JAMES HAS AFFLICTED LIMB

The many friends of circuit clerk, V. R. James, regret that he is confined to his home with an afflicted limb. A slight abrasion on the lower left limb developed into quite a sore which has been giving him a dea of pain and more or less concern. The afflicted parts seem to be yielding to treatment and the hope is indulged that he will be able to be out again within a few days.

FARMERS STILL PAY THE TAX

American farmers have seen their taxes increase nearly 160 per cent in the last fifteen years, and in the same period land values have become approximately 20 per cent higher. In the old days the "hired man" and the "hired girl" lived with the farmer's family and the cost of wages was only a minimum of what it is today.

While the farmer is paying this high rate of increase in taxes very little of it goes to the federal government, which operates federal income tax matters. If the farmers were making big profits, as is the case with most of the industries, the farmers would register their prosperity in income tax returns. But the tax that they pay is almost wholly on real estate, which makes it clear that this class of our citizens are not getting their share of the prosperity turn-over that has swept the nation.

The above from the Clarion-Ledger is true because of the fact that the farmer is being made, and has been made for the past 50 years, the orphan child in federal legislation.

The farmer buys what he buys at the seller's price; he sells the products of his farm at the buyer's price. The farmer cannot, under the rules of commerce and because of the lack of proper federal legislation, fix the price of anything he has to sell. The commercial world and speculator are allowed to buy and sell "futures", thereby gambling on and in farm products, and we are told when there is anything said about stopping the selling of futures that "it will hurt the farmer". Bless your soul, the farmer can hardly be any worse hurt than he is, and he should be allowed to make a few years' trial of trying his luck without the futures speculator who, it seems, would have the farmer believe that he is in business largely for the farmer's welfare.

The whole moneyed world, it appears, is for the future dealer. Why, because they profit thereby while the fleece is being sheared from the farmer's back.

Senator Carraway of Arkansas has a bill pending now in the United States Senate to forbid dealing in "futures", but the speculators and allied interests are up in arms against the bill and are seeking to press their views on Congress. They'll have their way because the farmers are unorganized and have no authoritative body or representatives of any farm organization to speak for them.

There can be no objection to selling spot cotton ahead. It is all right for the man who has fifty, one hundred or a thousand bales of cotton, or who expects to make any number of bales during the year, to sell that cotton for future delivery. That can do no other farmer injury, and it is one of a citizen's "inalienable rights". But the man who never makes any cotton, or maybe never saw a bale of cotton, should be estopped from gambling in cotton. As it is today there are perhaps 100,000,000 bales of cotton sold on the boards when only 16,000,000 are produced.

We repeat the farmer can be no worse off without the future speculator than he is with it, and he should be allowed to try the game without him.

THE SENATE HAS RATIFIED THE KELLOGG PEACE TREATIES.

On Tuesday the United States senate by a vote of 85 to 1, ratified the Kellogg Peace Treaties. Those who opposed ratification because there was no mention of the Monroe doctrine, or because there was no American reservation, voted for the treaty after the Monroe doctrine reservation was reported by the Foreign Relations committee. We think those contending for a United States reservation or explanation of the treaty were right. The least this country can have to do with the political and internal affairs of Europe the better for us. Our inherited inclination aganst "entangling alliances" was not assuaged by what happened in the negotiations over the Versailles treaty, and the Harding Disarmament Conference when Great Britain pulled the wool over the eyes of the American representatives and caused this country to destroy $500,000,000 worth of war vessels while she has gone along building cruisers ever since.

THE FLU HARVEST

The present influenza epidemic is described by many physicians as "less serious than usual." It is certainly far less fatal in its effects than the tragic tidal wave which first swept over this country during the World War. Yet it is serious enough to thousands of families. And in almost every case it leaves physical weaknesses which take considerable time to overcome and require close watching during convalescence.

The most tragic phase of this wave, says a nurse with a wide knowledge of the situation, is the toll of lives it has taken among two classes of patients—the oldest and youngest. Children over two years of age and youths and middle-aged patients are usually in no great danger, if they have proper care, and follow the medical advice given them. But the babies and the grandfathers and grandmothers—they are swept away in a sad harvest these winter months.

With them, there must be constant alertness to detect the first onset of the disease, with the best possible medical attention and nursing while the active period lasts, and then unremitting watchfulness until the last vestige of cough, fever, weakness or other effect has vanished.

Similar care, in hardly less degree, should be exercised with all other patients, no matter how strong they appear and how quickly they seem to recover. The flu is a treacherous disease, quick to leap upon its victim again and take a fresh hold at the very moment of recovery. School, business, social obligations, all these should be rated as of little importance until the patient is well again beyond all possible doubt.

The above from the Hattiesburg American is sadly true. Experience has shown that the country has been more or less afflicted with an epidemic of flu every winter since 1918. Congress should pass the bill introduced some weeks ago by someone to appropriate $25,000,000 for the medical profession to use in discovering the cause of influenza and in finding a sure cure. The doctors can do the job if given the funds to study and experiment. And what is twenty or one hundred millions of dollars as compared to the life or health of even one of our loved ones. The matter concerns over one hundred million people and congress should not fail to rise to the gravity of the situation. In place of loaning money to foreign nations let's use it at home to fight the flu.

YES, THEY DO CARE.

One of the Washington City daily newspapers is authority for the statement that there were two million dollars worth of whiskey sold in the Nation's capital Christmas day which is still further proof that we have not yet learned to govern ourselves. Men who drink to the drunken state must be trying to ease their conscience or else are not properly mindful of what the best of their neighbors and their real friends think. Their actions in regard to drink are entirely at cross purposes with their conduct in the business affairs of life in which they are duly mindful of ethical standards and of those unwritten rules which need to be observed by every one who desires the good opinion and the confidence of those with whom he deals. Yes, "what people think" amounts to a very great deal, and those who sometimes use the "don't care", know that they do care, that they had rather have the good opinion of the public than the bad. The business man who violates law, or who aids and abets lawbreaking, takes a greater risk than the man who has nothing but the hat on his head and the clothes on his back. It is law that preserves to man what is termed "his". It is law that protects one in his daily tasks and that forms a shield for him against pirates, buccaneers and the hundreds of others who filch and plunder and who seek to live by taking what others have striven to lay by. Law is a chain that guards society and that guards the rights of property. Break that chain in one place, and there is danger all along the line. Revolutions have their beginnings in what may be termed small law breakings. Crime has its birth in petty lawbreaking—lawbreaking that the perpetrator sometimes excuses himself for because as he puts it, "nobody is hurt but me". In this he is mistaken. Yes, right thinking men do care.

JACKSON PULLING AHEAD.

The Sentinel is genuinely glad to see Jackson, the capital city of our state, growing so rapidly. There is no mushroom about Jackson's development. There is no boom, but it is pulling ahead so steadily that ordinarily one would say that there is a boom on. Jackson has a fine citizenship. It is backed by two good newspapers. Its business men pull together and it has some able leaders in the world of commerce. New and handsome residences are going up and new skyscraping buildings are being erected and others are being planned. Several subdivisions are being opened. Jackson is already the largest city in Mississippi. With its present growth, but a few years will elapse before it will be thrice the size of any other city or town in the state.

It can also be said for Jackson that there is a fine, aggressive moral and religious atmosphere that pervades the community and that is predominant in its affairs.

HATTIESBURG AMERICAN ABLY EDITED.

The Hattiesburg American, under the direction of Francis S. Harmon, is being ably and constructively edited. The American stands for those things concerning the welfare and the prosperity of the state that make for permanency in character and real success in business. It is no follower. It does not trail. We admire the pluck and the zeal and the ability with which the editor expresses himself.

We are surprised at poor judgment being displayed by Capt. Sullens of the Jackson Daily News in lecturing the lower house of the legislature because it does not vote for Gov. Bilbo's particular measures. There is only one Governor and about 90 members of the lower house. Our friend should not forget the complaint of the one juror about the eleven contrary ones.

GOOD TIMES AHEAD FOR THOSE RAISING POULTRY

There are good times ahead in 1929 for farmers who make poultry raising a serious part of their year's work, according to U. S. Government reports and opinions of poultry experts throughout the country. Conditions are favorable, and a good market awaits the producer.

1. Government reports show a scarcity of hens and a short crop of pullets on farms throughout the country. Chicago Produce News says "about 30,000,000 less than a year ago."
2. This means fewer eggs laid and satisfactory egg prices.
3. Reports indicate bumper crops of corn and oats. Poultry feed prices are declining as a result of these big crops.
4. The serious shortage at the present time of beef cattle, swine and sheep is going to make even greater demand for poultry meat and eggs.
5. Prices of meat, especially beef, are being forced to new high levels which may exceed the war-time peak.
6. If poultry meat is cheaper than beef, people are going to eat more chickens.
8. Leading hatcherymen, uniting under the slogan, "Hatchery Chicks For Greater Profits," have organized to assist in raising the poultry standard by pledging better chicks and fair dealing.
9. Greater egg production from flocks means increased profits per pound of feed.

With a ready market promised, lower feed prices in sight, and a large demand predicted, the farmer prepared to satisfy the demand stands in a position to reap a considerable profit from poultry.

BRAKES cause accidents or prevent them -which kind are yours?

It only takes one skid—one emergency in which brakes fail to hold—to cause an accident. It might be slight—perhaps a jammed fender—and it might cost a life. Why gamble with chance? Brakes, out of balance or not equalized will cause a car to skid to the right or left. Four-wheel brakes—when out of adjustment—add no more to your ability to stop than two-wheel brakes. Your car is only as safe as its brakes. Keep them in perfect adjustment.

We have installed a new JUMBO Giant Brake Tester that scientifically tests two or four-wheel brakes. Use our accurate test every 1500 miles. If adjustments are needed we will make them quickly—at a very reasonable charge.

See For Yourself

Right before your eyes—on accurate hydraulic gauges—the JUMBO Brake Tester reveals the true condition of the brake on each wheel. Eliminates all chance for human error—no guesswork. Assures positive equalization and perfect balance of brakes—maximum braking efficiency—"guaranteed safety!"

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History
—a Six in the price range of the four!

represents 4 years of Development and over a Million miles of Testing

Years ago, the Chevrolet Motor Company designed and built its first experimental six-cylinder motor. This far-sighted step was taken because Chevrolet engineers knew that the six-cylinder motor is inherently the most perfectly balanced motor—the ideal power plant to meet the growing public demand for greater reserve power, faster get-away and, above all—smooth, quiet performance.

During the last four years, over a hundred six-cylinder motors were built by Chevrolet engineers and tested on the General Motors Proving Ground. Day and night, through winter's cold and summer's heat, the incessant testing went on—until the present motor was developed and finally pronounced correct.

At the same time other Chevrolet engineers were perfecting other parts of the chassis. And another great automotive organization—the Fisher Body Corporation—was devoting its gigantic resources to the creation of the finest, sturdiest and most beautiful bodies ever offered on a low-priced automobile.

As a result, the Outstanding Chevrolet offers an order of well-balanced excellence—a combination of performance, comfort, beauty and handling ease that is truly remarkable—with a fuel-economy of better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

Badly Run-Down

"Six years ago, I was very much run-down," says Mrs. Olympia Kight, of Lovett, Ga. "I did not sleep well, and was weak and restless. I dragged around the house with not enough strength to do my daily tasks. I worried a lot, and this disturbed state of mind reacted on my health.

"I had often read of Cardui, so I thought I would try it. I soon began to improve after I had taken Cardui for a while.

"It was astonishing how much I picked up. I slept better; my appetite improved, and that awful dragging-down feeling left me. I was so much better that I continued taking Cardui until I felt perfectly well."

Cardui has been used by women for over 50 years. For sale by all druggists.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Dean, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago
(©, 1928, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for January 20

CHRIST THE SAVIOR

LESSON TEXT—Luke 15:3-7; Romans 5:6-10.

GOLDEN TEXT—And thou shall call His name Jesus; for it is He that shall save His people from their sins.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Our Savior.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Our Savior.

I. The Savior Predicted (Gen. 3:15; Is. 9:6, 7).

In connection with the fall of man the pronouncement of judgment upon the woman, man and the serpent, and the announcement of the undying enmity which was to exist between the seed of the woman and the seed of the serpent, ultimate victory was predicted of the woman's seed. This enmity has continued all through the ages, even to the present time. On the cross of Calvary the final stroke was made which crushed his head (John 12:31; Heb. 2:14; I John 3:8). This announcement concerning the Conquering One was the first gleam of the glorious gospel of Christ. A great victory was won, but at an infinite cost. The prediction of the Savior became more specific in Isaiah 9:6, 7. The eternal Son of God was "given" to the world, but He was "born" as a child.

II. The Savior Born (Luke 2:11 30, 32).

That which had been predicted was historically fulfilled in the birth of Jesus Christ at Bethlehem. When Jesus was brought into the temple as a child, the Holy Ghost revealed to Simeon that this was the Messiah. He took the child Jesus in his arms and blessed God, declaring that he had now with his eyes seen God's salvation and that He was to be a light to lighten the Gentiles and was to be the glory of Israel. This appearance of the Savior was heralded to the shepherds by the angels as they ascribed to God the highest glory and announced peace on earth and good will to men.

III. The Savior Described.

1. He seeks the lost (Luke 15:3-7).

This seeking of the lost is illustrated by the man leaving the ninety and nine sheep and going after the one which was lost, and his rejoicing over his success in finding it.

2. He died for the lost (John 3:14-17).

As the brazen serpent was lifted up in the wilderness by Moses, so Jesus Christ was lifted up on the cross. God gave Jesus Christ to die, to make an atonement for the sins of the world. All those who believe on Him receive eternal life and therefore escape condemnation. Christ's coming into the world was not to condemn the world, but to bring it to salvation.

3. He knows His own (John 10:14).

As the Good Shepherd who seeks out the lost and gives His life for them, He has a definite knowledge of each one of them. Not only does He know them personally, but they in turn know Him.

4. He keeps His own (John 10:27-29).

Believers are Christ's sheep and because they are His sheep they hear His voice and follow Him. He not only gives unto them eternal life but holds them in His omnipotent hands. They are absolutely secure because no man is able to pluck them out of His hands.

IV. Some Blessings Received Through the Savior.

1. Physical strength (Acts 3:1-11).

The healing of the lame man at the beautiful gate of the temple is a fine example of Christ's ability to heal the body. This man had been lame from birth. Because the life of Jesus Christ was brought into touch with him, he was able immediately to arise—strength came into his feet and ankle bones. Not only did he arise, but he walked and leaped, praising God.

2. Justification (Rom. 5:1-11).

The one who receives Jesus Christ is declared righteous. His guilt is removed, and because he is justified, he has peace with God, the assurance that God loves him, and real joy in God Himself.

3. Christ is the Supreme Example to the believer (Phil. 2:5-10).

Because the Savior became incorporated with the race through the incarnation, He is able to impart life to those with whom He is identified. Furthermore, because He thus imparts life, the believer is able to make Him an example. He is able to express the same spirit of devotion and humility in giving himself in service instead of being served.

On Friday night of last week, Mayor A. S. Bell entertained the officers and directors of the Peoples' Building and Loan Association, at the Grenada Hotel, and of which he is the worthy and efficient president. The supper was elegant in every respect, and thoroughly enjoyed by all those present. Various toasts and speeches were made to the edification of one and all—especially the eloquent remarks of Mr. H. J. Ray, on "new married life". Mayor Bell and Rev. J. W. Lee gave some interesting and valuable information in reference to the Peoples' Building and Loan Association. The guests present were profuse in their thanks to the mayor for such a delightful entertainment, and also complimented Maj. B. F. Thomas for his taste and skill in preparing such a bountiful repast.

Jones, of Grenada, and is an affable and sterling young gentleman. He is now practicing his profession at Lula, and we are glad to know is meeting with marked success. His bride is a lovely, charming young lady, and The Sentinel wishes for them unalloyed bliss and prosperity.

A very beautiful home wedding occurred at Abbeville, Miss., on the evening of December 23rd, when Mr. J. W. L. Whitten and Miss Birdie Sanders were united in marriage by Rev. W. F. Roberts, of the Baptist church, this city. The marriage ceremony was said at 9 o'clock in the presence of special friends of the contracting parties. Miss Sanders was the popular music teacher at Abbeville, and is the daughter of former Chief Justice Sanders, of Arkansas. To a most important group of motor car buyers

Certain American people are getting on in the world. Many of them are just starting. But they're headed up the ladder. Their ideas of luxury are expanding. They want finer homes, finer furniture, finer automobiles.

These people form a most important group of automobile buyers. Their importance lies in the progress they are making. As they progress, their needs grow. Their ideas encompass new standards of living.

For three years, hundreds of thousands of these progressive Americans have been buying the Pontiac Six. Some of them have bought it as the first car they ever owned. But to most of them, Pontiac has represented the first big step up from the lowest priced field.

For this progressive group, Oakland has now created a brand new Pontiac Six. It represents an even greater advancement over everything else in its field today than the original Pontiac represented in 1926. It offers entirely new bodies by Fisher. It will take its buyers farther than ever up the ladder of motor car quality in one step. Watch for the

DODGE BROTHERS SIX
PRESENTED BY
WALTER P. CHRYSLER

{FROM THE SATURDAY EVENING POST, JANUARY 5, 1929}

THE NEW Dodge Brothers Six furnishes unassailable evidence of the unlimited capabilities of the great forces of the Chrysler Corporation when marshalled to full strength in any enterprise.

From an engineering standpoint, it is a supreme achievement of a group of engineers whose scientific accomplishments have revolutionized contemporary automobile design.

We believe that in performance, in new measures of comfort, in long-lived excellence, and in persistent and inherent value, it surpasses every previous conception of what a car at this price could possibly be.

The utmost we would ask is that you actually see, examine and test the car itself—demanding of it more than you ever before have asked of any motor car at or near its price.

SALMON APPRECIATES MOST HIGHLY

To the Grenada Trade Territory and My Friends Generally:-

I wish to say that I appreciate most highly the splendid patronage you have given the store of Salmon & Kimbrough. I am sure that had you not thought we were giving you good values and a square deal, you would not have continued to trade with us. Mr. Kimbrough leaves the store to engage with others in business in Grenada.

I want you to know that it shall be my constant aim and endeavor to continue to give everybody the same courteous treatment and to try as best I can to see that only the best goods are sold you and at the right prices. I shall maintain the stock up to its high standard, adding from time to time such things as I think the trade demands. In short, I purpose to keep my store abreast of the standards made by the leading grocery stores of the country. I owe that much to the trade; I owe it to myself. The store will be known hereafter as W. D. Salmon & Co.

Again thanking one and all and soliciting most earnestly your continued good will and a fair share of your patronage.

I am yours truly,
W. D. SALMON.

RESOLUTIONS ON THE PASSING OF GLEN THOMASON

Whereas: The Greater Father God, in whom we live and move and have our being and in whom we have learned to trust our faith and destinies, has separated from our class and our individual friendship our brother Glen Thomason, And

Whereas: Glen Thomason lived a life of fidelity and honor and was esteemed as the embodiment of Christianity and the impersonation of spendid citizenship, always living and practicing those virtues and graces of kindness, courtesy, love and loyalty, that mean more to the church and society than accumulated material wealth.

Therefore, Be It Resolved: That the Men's Bible Class of the Methodist Sunday School of Grenada recognizes and feels deeply the irreparable loss of our beloved brother and shall miss him sadly from our company.

Resolved: That we shall remember for his Christian virtues and practice more those graces that made our brother so tenderly close to all who knew him. That we shall accept the will and the way of our Heavenly Father as always best for us though it mean often darkened skies and lonely hearts and homes.

Resolved Finally: That our condolence - our sympathy and compassion - be expressed to and for the bereaved wife and other relatives and that we share their grief with them. That in the days to come, when recollection and memory bring hours of sadness to the bereaved widow we shall be kind to her for the sake of our good brother.

Green be the turf above thee,
Friend of our better days,
None knew thee but to love thee,
None named thee but to praise.

Resolved That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the wife of our departed brother.

Unamimously adopted by the class.

CARD OF THANKS

I feel like I want to thank the good people of Grenada for their kindness and goodness. First of all I want to thank the nurses for their kindness and faithfulness to my dear wife and I thank Dr. Avent for the good attention given by him. I want to thank everybody who presented to my wife while at the hospital such beautiful flowers.

While at the hospital one lifelong friend, Sip Tatum, called me up. When he began telling me how he sympathized with me it meant so much to me and when my wife was so near death's door, then came Brother Farr with God in his heart and went into the sick room and prayed for her. That was worth all this world to me.

My prayer is for everyone that God's grace will lead them through this life and in heaven will save them. Sincerely,
R. W. CAFFEY.

We regret to chronicle the death of Mrs. Lizzie Terry one of our oldest and much respected citizens, which occurred last Monday morning between 1 and 2 o'clock. She had been ill for several months, but her early demise was hastened by having contracted a cold which ended her life. Mrs. Terry was an outstanding character in this community giving her time and service for its uplift. She was a faithful member of Vincent M. E. Church. Her death comes as a stroke to the advancement of religious and social life of our community. NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

The recent extraordinary session of the legislature enacted several laws of interest to taxpayers among which are several features I want to call your especial attention to.

Instead of beginning my work of assessing taxes on Feb. 1st, as has heretofore been the custom, the work of assessing begins one month earlier, on Jan. 1st. This means that you will be assessed on what you own on the first of the year and you should take due notice thereof in filling in your assessment blanks.

Every tax payer is required to make out his personal tax list and deliver it to the tax assessor not later than the first of April, and sooner if demanded. Taxpayers, too, must give in property which they have in charge as agent or otherwise. Much property that is with dealers or agents on consignment will be listed under this feature.

I hope that you will cooperate with me in carrying out the provisions of the law and that you will list your property promptly when blanks are given you.

Respectfully,
W. H. CROWDER, Tax Assessor,
Grenada County, Mississippi.

DELINQUENT POLL TAX LIST TO BE PUBLISHED

I would remind the citizens of Grenada County, and particularly those who are concerned with paying Poll Taxes, that the law now requires that the sheriff publish the list of those who have not paid their poll tax on or before Feb-1. Many are careless about paying poll taxs except at a general state election. The sheriff has no choice in the matter. We feel sure that it would embarrass many good people to have their names listed with those who are so careless about the duties of citizenship. Another thing about poll taxes that concerns everybody is that the poll tax fund goes to the schools; the more poll taxes collected the more money there is for the education of the children.

WILL SPEND $30,000,000

To meet the expanding needs of the southeastern states, the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company will spend more than $30,000,000 during 1929, a total $3,000,000 greater than was appropriated for similar purposes during 1928.

Operating in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee, the Southern Bell Company has included substantial amounts for each of these states in next year's budget.

Of the total amount, approximately $2,163,000 will be spent in the state of Mississippi alone. Large sums will be expended for various projects, including $500,000 for local exchange lines, $504,000 for reconstruction and additions to the long distance system, and $376,000 for central office equipment. Additions and improvement to buildings will require $27,000.

Telephone engineers now estimate that 4,000 new telephones will be added in Mississippi during 1929, and it is to meet this increase and corresponding expansions of the service that the millions of dollars will be spent in the state.

The increase in total expenditures and the estimated need for new telephone facilities is regarded as a reliable indication of the steady growth and expansion of the southeast as a whole, and Mississippi in particular. The past five year period has witnessed an outlay of more than $125,000,000 by the Southern Bell Company in this territory, and present indications point to equally substantial disbursements during the next five years.

Given a night's lodging in the jail at Omaha, Clyde Muzzle, a tramp, disappeared the next morning with a sack of valves which had been stored there.

An Oklahoma Mother Says:

"BLACK-DRAUGHT is a fine medicine to give to children. I use it for mine whenever I need to give them a laxative. They don't mind taking it when I make it into a tea, and it quickly relieves constipation and the bad symptoms which come from it. I can recommend it to other mothers, for I have found it useful in my home.

"When I was a child my mother gave it to me whenever I complained of not feeling well. I have always taken it for upset stomach and constipation. It is about the only medicine I have to take. A few doses of Black-Draught, now and then, keep my system in order. My husband takes it, too. I hardly see how I could keep house without Black-Draught. It has become a standby with us, in keeping the children and ourselves well."—Mrs. Luther Brassfield, Claremore, Okla.

Writes Of Doings At State Capital

Onlooker Opines on Governor's Investigations and Status of Executive and Legislators. Overhears Conversation of Some of State's Leading Business Men as to Increasing High Taxes. Jackson's Skyscrapers and Subdivisions.

Editor Grenada Sentinel:

Have not written you a letter for sometime. Thought maybe you were surfeited on what I was writing, and then have had the idea that Mississippi was kinder sick of much matter that has been going out of Jackson which touched public questions. But a new year is here, and somehow the spirit seems to move me to take my typewriter and peck you a few lines.

There is a cessation for the time being of hostilities between Gov. Bilbo and the legislative branch of the state. The Governor "ain't saying much" and since Walter Sillers shot that Bertha, there don't seem to be any necessity of any legislator saying much. Walter did enough. Sometimes I think Gov. Bilbo just keeps these "rows" up for a diversion. He enjoys them. He is "rowing" now with the highway commission, with the attorney general and the ex-chairman of the tax commission, with the penitentiary trustees, and with the lower house, or about 80 members of it. I am not passing on the justice or lack of justice of the quarrels. It might be denied that the Governor has anything to do with the row between the new superintendent of the penitentiary and the trustees, but most people see the hand of Esau in the litigation. Likewise a demurrer might be filed for the Governor about the legislative investigation of the attorney general and the ex-tax-commissioner, nevertheless it is a guess that he is enjoying it. Gov. Bilbo seems to be puzzling many of his closest political friends. But long ago it was learned that Theodore does not follow beaten paths. When you go to tree him, and when you cut down the bush he is supposed to be in, behold he is not there. There is argument for both sides as to who is right and who is wrong in the legislative scrap. I shall not undertake to discuss the merits of the issue in this article. He shot Speaker Tom Bailey a broadside about the time the special legislative session adjourned, and many have expressed surprise that the Speaker did not use the weapons which his friends say he has in answering. It may be that Speaker Bailey thought that Walter Sillers and other legislative friends had done enough to the Governor. Certainly the man who says little can have but little to take back.

Hon. Walker Wood's office, that of secretary of state, is the latest investigation ordered by Gov. Bilbo. That investigation goes back 28 years, and will involve Col. J. L. Power, his son and successor, Jos. W. Power, and the present incumbent. Mr. Wood seems delighted that the investigation has been ordered. There are those who are whispering that the expenditure of the Governor's contingent fund will be investigated when the legislature meets again. Investigations stir up so much that is offensive to the nostrils of peaceful citizens and usually bring no results except food for the political spell binder that the public is rather tiring of them.

Was sauntering around one of the leading hotels of the Capital the other night where there were 75 to 100 Mississippians lounging about, and the burden of the conversation of a dozen or more of the group was the taxes they are having to pay. One man said. "Talk about getting folks to come and live with us who would make investments is a waste of time until we get our revenue raising on a fixed and calculating basis. Taxes and insurance now eat up the profits". Another said, "I see no way out of the present situation except to advocate the issuance of bonds to pay taxes; maybe that would make people give more thought to where the money to pay taxes is coming from and how it is spent". But you know people have been talking about high taxes for several generations. They continue to talk and taxes continue to grow higher and higher. Of course there is a point beyond which it is not safe to go with even taxes, and we are finding out, most of us are, even if legislators have not—that we cannot create industry and prosperity by increasing taxes. Yet we should circumscribe our wants more and determine to live nearer the ground, and if we will do that, there will be no need of tax increases.

Jackson is booming. This is no idle statement. There are several subdivisions being opened and from which lots are being sold with a rapidity that would have astonished some fifteen years ago. One of the latest subdivisions to be opened is Hawthorne Hills in the northern part of the city. One of the most significant things, as an evidence of the business growth of Jackson, is the 12 and 16 story buildings that are being planned here. The twelve story building has been contracted for and may be said to be a certainty. The epidemic of flu has retarded business here for the past month and particularly since the Christmas holidays, nevertheless, there has not been that seeming cloud of despondency to hover over Jackson from which many other towns and communities are suffering. The flu is a business killer and it has shown that it can do much to hamstring optimism and a courageous business spirit.

Let it be hoped that congress will turn aside from other things long enough to appropriate several million dollars to aid the medical world in ascertaining the cause of the flu and in finding remedies to cure it when one becomes afflicted. Here's good luck to everybody.

Opera Favorite Coming to Mississippi in February

MARY GARDEN

Beloved soprano, who comes to Jackson with the Chicago Civic Opera Company sings the title role in Massenet's "Thais" at the Municipal Auditorium in Jackson on February 26th, the second evening of the 1929 Season of the Jackson Grand Opera Association. Miss Garden was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, but has been an American since six years of age. She is the only woman who has held the position of General Director of any American opera company, and during her regime in that capacity with the Chicago company she gave her audiences a brilliant season of opera. She returns again this year as one of the most valued soprano artists.

Music lovers all over Mississippi are daily evidencing their interest in the two attractions presented by the Chicago Civic Opera company in Jackson next February by sending in their orders for tickets to Treasurer S. S. Marks.

Auditor C. C. White Gives State Figures

State Official Shows Financial Condition of State of Mississippi at Close of Past Year.

It is a pleasure and privilege for me to submit to the people of Mississippi for their information a summary and review of the financial statistics of the State of Mississippi for the calendar year of 1928 closing December 31st.

This is being done without any comment other than to say we prepared a statement for the Governor and the State Legislature just before the extraordinary session, in which we estimated the deficit for 1928 to be a little more than $3,000,000.00. After the extraordinary session was over we made another statement showing that the deficit would be a little more than $3,000,000.00.

During the calendar year just closed the collection of general fund revenues from taxes, privileges, income, penitentiary products, etc., amounted to $8,991,398.94. This revenue was applied to the payment of the following bills: Closing up 1927 accounts to the amount of $522,564.51; and paying of new appropriations of 1928 to the amount of $12,207,425.25. Referring the total revenues of 1928 to the amount of 1928 appropriations paid off we find a shortage of revenues in the sum of $3,216,027.31. These figures substantiate the statements and estimates made by the auditor from time to time as to the probable deficit accruing between July 1, 1928 and Jan. 1, 1929. Such statement was published by the auditor on September 1, 1928, and reaffirmed on October 1, 1928. The deficit referred to here has been covered by the following loans; Bond issue $1,788,500.00; Loan to Pension Fund from University Building fund in the sum of $384,237.00; and short term notes issued in December anticipating 1929 revenues in the sum of $4,000,000.00.

In the matter of special funds the State has received during the past year in special fund revenues and non-revenues, other than bond issues, the sum of $7,481,511.17. These funds are applied to special purposes such as Highway building, State Banking Departments, Vocational Education, etc.

The following amounts have been received on special bond issues: General Improvements $1,120,000.00; University Improvement $1,600,000.00; Rehabilitation of Mississippi Delta $1,000,000.00; For paying off bonds falling due 1928 and 1929 $586,000.00; For State Hospital Removal $500,000.00. Grand total receipts from all sources for all purposes by the State during 1928 amounted to $27,067,410.11.

Legislator-Enginer Discusses Highways

Horace Stansel, Legislator from Sunflower County, Gives Informative Data on Highway Building, Matter of Much Interest at Present to Mississippians—Discusses State Highway Program after Exhaustive Study of Several Years.

The following article, to appear in two instalments, was written by Hon. Horace Stansel, representative in the Mississippi legislature from Sunflower county. Mr. Stansel, himself an engineer, should be a good authority on the subject of highway building and his article contains much that should interest Mississippians at this time. His discussion follows:

Mississippi's Highway Problem

(By Horace Stansel, Representative Sunflower County)

Considerable thought is being given by Mississippians to a state highway program, the location of routes, their extent, and road financing. Having reached rather definite conclusions on these and other road questions, after an investigation and study of several years, visiting numerous states, studying the research and experience of many highway departments, federal reports and experiments, and road authorities at every opportunity and feeling that a brief examination of some of the information gained will be of interest to many thinking citizens, I shall undertake a short discussion of the subject.

Road construction in America has not yet caught pace with automobile production but is rapidly gaining, being materially assisted by the Federal government, which continues federal aid to the states on a large scale. Since 1918 about eleven hundred million dollars have been collected from autoists through an excise tax on automobile sales, and about six hundred million have been paid to the states as federal aid up to the present. If all of this tax is to be converted into roads via federal aid, then the states are still due to receive five hundred million dollars. There were 73,119 miles of federal aid road, or about 25% of the total federal 7% system, completed to September 1, 1928. The fact that a large sum is still claimed as "owing", and that 75% or thereabout remains uncompleted in the proposed system, indicates that federal aid will continue until the system, with possibly some small additions, is completed. This may be 15, possibly 20 years.

Less than 10% of the roads in the nation comprise the highway system mileage of all of the states, therefore on an average, less than 10% of the mileage in a state is selected for main arterial, or so-called state highways. This may be generally divided into 3% interstate, 4% intrastate, and 3% inter-county. The first two combined comprise the federal 7% system selected by the Secretary of Agriculture through the Bureau of Public Roads, in cooperation with local authorities in each state. On this 7% system only, can federal aid be received, and this is limited to construction or reconstruction. Even a member of the Legislature, after six months service, is confused on this matter. He wrote in the Commercial Appeal of Sunday, December 30, 1928, "many of the highways now maintained by the state highway department with this federal fund will have to be thrown back on the counties for maintenance". No federal aid can be used for maintenance as such use is prohibited by federal law, and federal aid is granted only after the local authorities have pedged perpetual maintenance solely at local expense.

The American Association of State Highway officials has defined the correct economic theory of highway improvement in the statement: "No road should be improved in excess of its earning capacity. The return to the public, in the form of economic transportation, is the sole measure of the justification for the degree of the improvement". A. F. Woods, Director of Research, of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, is quoted as saying that traffic carried by local roads is not sufficient to support high types of pavement. The traffic on a road, actual or potential, is an important factor in considering improvement.

The Federal Government, in connection with the Connecticut State Highway department, has made an extensive study of the earning capacity of a paved road. A report of the P. S. Bureau of Public Roads, after stating the average gross weight of trucks on the Connecticut system was 3½ tons, advises that the following conclusions were reached: "It may be assumed that the value of the highway service is one cent per passenger-car mile, and three cents per truck-mile." If the average gross weight of truck traffic in Mississippi be considered about 2½ tons or 3 tons, we can assume that paved highway service in our state is one cent per passenger car mile and about 2 or 2½ cents per truck mile. The earning capacity of a gravel road has not been determined, but it is generally recognized that it is a greater forward step from the dirt and mud road to the all-weather gravel road than it is from the gravel road to the paved road. Therefore, the service value or earning capacity of a gravel road ought at least be half that of a paved road. Then the difference would be ½ cent per passenger-car-mile and proportionate for trucks, as the economic saving or return. It can readily be seen that the most important factor is the number of cars that pass over a given mile daily. A traffic of around 2000 vehicles per day, or 3 every minute for an eleven hour period, counting 300 working days per year, would justify the paving of a road, as the economic saving would pay the interest, depreciation, maintenance, and administrative costs on a paved road. Few roads in Mississippi have traffic near so high as this.

Mississippi has no traffic census information of a general or comprehensive nature and this kind of information is essential to a proper consideration and a reasonably safe solution of the highway paving problem. Maintenance costs of every section in the state are easily available and at the request of the House of Representatives, the highway department will at once begin to assemble traffic data throughout the state. Other information, as to types of paving, cost of maintenance, retreading, financing, and highway administration will also be assembled, and definite information will be available so that the legislature will be able to reduce guess-work to a minimum, and proceed on fact rather than fancy, to work out a solution having a maximum of truth and a minimum of error contained therein. Until a proper compilation and study can be had of such extremely important basic facts, no state can be justified in launching out on a general program involving its road revenues 20 or 30 years.

From the standpoint of cost to the state it would only be when the maintenance costs of a gravel road had equalled the cost of interest, depreciation and maintenance of a paved road, that the state would be justified in substituting high type paving for gravel surfacing. One road authority has estimated interest, depreciation and maintenance of a paved road at $2200 annually. Therefore if it is costing the state approximately near this sum per mile to maintain a gravel road, the state can afford for the same money to pave the road. Comparatively few miles of the state maintained system of 4664 miles approach this cost. The average cost per mile per year on the entire state system is less than one-fourth this sum.

As to a general state policy, the advice and recommendation of the finance committee of the Highway Advisory Board of the National Research Council of America, appears particularly applicable to a state which is considering a reorganization and enlargement of its highway improvement program. This highly respected body said: "The highway program of a state should be limited to the ability of the state to carry on economically a long time improvement program. It is economically unsound to set as an objective the completion of a large yearly program of new construction work as a mark of achievement. The result of this practice is to unduly increase the demand for labor and materials above normal, which increases the per-mile cost of the highway improvement. Unfortunately the increase in cost resulting from this practice is not confined to state limits, but reacts on the labor and material markets in adjacent states, increasing the cost per mile of neighboring states that may be operating on a normal yearly construction program. Whenever the demand for highway labor and material exceeds the market supply, the available fund of highway revenue actually constructs a smaller amount of highway mileage. An excess volume of highway construction is also reflected in an increase in the construction costs of other industries which use the same type of labor and materials. This disturbing element in highway construction can be largely avoided by carefully planning the state highway improvement program extending over a period of years and adjusted to the yearly highway budget. Under a budget system the sources of revenue should produce an amount sufficient to handle normal construction, maintenance, and betterments".

HERBERT HOOVER HAS HAD EXPERIENCE AS FARMER

Herbert Hoover, president-elect of the United States, will not be without practical farming experience when he comes to work out farm relief measures during his term of ofice. Although little was said about it during the recent campaign, he has owned a 1313 acre farm in California since 1920 and he has operated it, not only as a business enterprise, but also as a base for practical agricultural experiments.

Diversified farming is a fundamental part of the Hoover program. Here is how the Hoover farm operations are divided;

Vineyards, 435 acres producing 10 varieties of table grapes with a yearly output of about 600,000 pounds; between 60 and 320 acres in cotton; 200 acres in alfalfa, yielding seven tons to the acre, and cut seven times a year; 150 acres in potatoes; 130 acres in peaches producing 16,000 pounds to the acre; 80 to 120 acres in corn; 90 or more acres in watermelons and muskmelons; 90 acres in Spanish onions; 40 to 80 acres in spinach producing about 960,000 pounds a season; 40 to 60 acres of sweet potatoes; 70 acres in apricots.

In addition there are about 2500 laying hens, 200 sows and 150 cows. As many as 200 employees are at work during peak harvesting seasons, and the annual pay roll is about $75,000.

Considerable experimental work is done on the farm, and a good part of this has been in connection with poultry work. In accordance with the most modern farm poultry methods and in the interests of economy and profits, the Hoover stock is replenished each year with baby chicks secured from hatcheries. Eggs are marketed regularly, the income from this source proving considerable, since only the best of high egg-laying stock is used to make up the laying flock. The usual culling, and marketing of broilers adds another source of profit, and removes the "loafer hen" from the flock, thus giving increased egg production at less feed cost.

Purchase of chicks from laying stock of proved quality is fundamental in profitable farm poultry work, and has resulted, during the past year, in the formation of leading hatcheries of the country into an organization which has as its identifying slogan, "Hatchery Chicks For Greater Profits." These hatcheries are pledged to fair dealing with customers, and the production of quality chicks from stock of known profit-producing ability.

Most recent experimenting on the Hoover farm has to do with the hog-raising industry, the present herd of 200 sows being the nucleus for further expansion and experimental work.

President-elect Hoover owns this farm jointly with Ralph Merrit. The farm is located about 280 miles south of San Francisco and 150 miles north of Los Angeles, on the main line of the Santa Fe railway. It is three miles south of the little town of Wasco, and is one of the largest cultivated ranches in that vicinity.

MRS. MILLER GAINS TWENTY SIX POUNDS

Only Weighed 90 Pounds When She Began Taking Sargon. Has Taken Seventeen Bottles.

"Since I began taking Sargon I have gained twenty-six pounds", was the remarkable statement made a few days ago by Mrs. Nellie Miller, residing at 407 N. Main St., Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. Miller is a prominent church worker.

"When I commenced taking Sargon I only weighed ninety pounds", she said, "and I now weigh one hundred and sixteen. I feel better than I have in ten years.

"For years I suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side. I became so weak I could hardly get around.

"I had no appetite at all scarcely, and what little I did eat caused gas on my stomach, and palpitation of the heart, headaches and dizzy spells. I was awfully nervous. I worried about myself until I could sleep and rest but little. I never knew what it was to retire at night without taking some kind of strong purgative.

"After I had given up all hope of ever being well again a friend of mine persuaded me to give Sargon a trial. I shall always thank this friend from the bottom of my heart, for Sargon helped me from the very first day. I have taken seventeen bottles of Sargon and now I feel like I have been made all over again.

"I now have a splendid appetite. Those terrible pains in my side have disapppeared and I sleep like a child. I am no longer nervous, and when I get up mornings I feel refreshed, cheerful and bright. I really feel as if I had started life all over again.

"I believe Sargon Soft Mass Pills had a lot to do with my recovery, and think they should always be taken in connection with Sargon. They are entirely different from any other laxative I ever took, because they are so mild and easy in action".
